

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

TotaLand: Revolutionizing Field Land Work for Landmen, Saving Time and Money

[Lafayette, LA] – TotaLand, the pioneering software solution, is transforming the landscape for landmen by simplifying and streamlining everyday tasks associated with field land work. With the power of TotaLand, landmen can now access all their critical information from any internet connection, providing a faster, more efficient, and cost-effective approach to their work.

Say goodbye to the days of chasing down updates and paperwork – TotaLand makes it possible for landmen to have all their essential data at their fingertips. This breakthrough software offers a wide range of features tailored to meet the needs of field land professionals.

TotaLand's key features include:

Simplicity at its Core: TotaLand consolidates all your data into a single, user-friendly platform, ensuring easy and intuitive access to critical information.

Access Anytime, Anywhere: Work seamlessly on your desktop, tablet, laptop, or smartphone. TotaLand empowers landmen to be productive no matter where they are.

Robust Reporting Tools: TotaLand provides comprehensive reporting options, including summary and detailed data, filtering and sorting capabilities, and various exporting options.

Executable Documents: Generate essential documents such as leases, rights-of-way, and seismic permits with ease.

Effortless Payment Management: TotaLand simplifies payment processes with features like drafts, orders for payment, and check requests.

Purchase Reports: Generate Lease Purchase Reports (LPRs) and other document types effortlessly.

Custom Output Libraries: TotaLand offers the flexibility to create custom libraries for reports, lease and payment forms, additional paragraph language, and provision tracking.

Seamless Deployment: No installation required, and an extensive library of video tutorials ensures a hassle-free onboarding experience.

World-Class Support: TotaLand's support team, based in the USA, understands the intricacies of field land work and is always ready to assist.

To experience the power of TotaLand for yourself, sign up for our free trial by visiting <https://www.totaland.com/Trial>. It's the perfect opportunity to see how TotaLand can save you time and money in your field land work.

TotaLand's President, Alan Day, expressed enthusiasm for the software's potential to reshape the industry: "We believe that TotaLand is a game-changer for landmen, enabling them to save valuable time and resources while enhancing their ability to focus on what truly matters. Our commitment to providing accessible, user-friendly tools and unparalleled support makes Totaland the preferred choice for field land work."

In an industry where time is money, Totaland is empowering landmen to work more efficiently, accurately, and cost-effectively. With its easy-to-use interface and broad suite of features, it's no wonder that Totaland is becoming the go-to solution for field land work.

To learn more about Totaland and experience the future of field land work for yourself, visit <https://www.totaland.com> or contact us at info@totalandenergy.com

About Totaland: Totaland is a leading software platform for land management in the energy sector. With a commitment to innovation and efficiency, Totaland provides powerful tools that help professionals streamline their operations and improve communication with clients. Totaland is trusted by energy companies of all sizes to manage their land assets effectively.

